Description: This course will explore relief printmaking through linocuts and monoprints. In addition to print carving and creating, we will also be focused on principles of design and how to become a better artist. Students will learn through hands-on art making; they will also learn through several class demonstrations, viewing fine art from other artists and some lecture on history of printmaking to understand terminology and print processes.

Goal: The goal of LINOCUTS ROCK is for students to gain a deeper level of understanding of one of the oldest and most awesome forms of art. Instructor, Stephanie LH Harvey, strives to have the course rejuvenate creativity in all ages.
